Please sleep, my darling, sleep Your cry for inspiration Never reaches ears on distant stars And every night our lonely planet Slides across the universe And I won't pretend I understand

Please sleep, my darling, sleep Your death by information Won't disturb the peace on distant stars And even when you lock the doors And slide behind the unlit shades None of us are strangers anymore

Fall asleep with the windows open
Come to me with the worst you've said and done
You'll close your eyes and see me
A little death makes life more meaningful
I stand no chance at all

Please, sleep my darling, sleep Your car crash in slow motion Won't upset the pace on distant stars And one by one the years of our lives Stumble as the moments pass So please hold on, so please hold on

So fall asleep with the windows open
Come to me with the worst you've said and done
You'll close your eyes and see me
A little death makes life more meaningful
I stand no chance at all

Please, sleep my darling, sleep Please, sleep my darling, sleep

So fall asleep with the windows open
Come to me with the worst you've said and done
You'll close your eyes and see me
A little death makes life more meaningful
I stand no chance at all
