When It Comes To Livin'

There's only one thing that matters in life In spite of the way it might seem It's not when you're born it's not when you die But what have you done in between So don't spend your days In a useless parade of momentary matters When we can change What forever remains

When it comes to livin' We've only got one life When it comes to dyin' It's just a matter of time But everybody's got a choice to make For we all can make a difference in life Are you gonna take a stand for what's right When it comes your time

Sometimes I feel like we're moving too fast In search of the meaning of truth With no place to turn and no one to ask I wonder just who's leading who But time after time There's a courage I find to stand up to temptation I'm building faith With each choice that I make

One thing's for certain This crazy world is searching for a guiding light We can't deny that humanity is crying out For Jesus Christ 4HIM
