

Winter's Gone

4th Dimension

Dawn is breaking on these woods cast deep in shades of doom
My road is long, the end so vague, I'm praying to be true
All around a world of ice, so cold and torn apart
I'm trailing on a path of old forsaking days of loss

There came an eerie wind, a calling from the north
The urge to learn the answer to a question left untold

Winter's gone - and I'm left alone
Winterborn - Father, hearken my call
Truth's been waiting, patient, unnumbered years
Countless days I wasted shedding unnumbered tears
Winter's gone...

Fragments of reality, the shards of a past long gone
Stars and moon, the vault beyond, a poem carved in stone
Virgin whiteness, ancient beauty, a glimpse of Winter's Heart
Dreams they fade yet lore arcane sustains my mortal faith

The coldest night, His lost domain, my oath upon a ring
Rhymes renewed for ages, soon I will fulfil...

Winterborn - No, I'm not alone
Winter's Gone - His essence still flows
Snow keeps falling, whirling, spiralling high
So are falling, cleansing, clear tears of ice from my eyes...

Winterborn - I'm one with His world
Winter's blood - Scarlet stains on the snow
Still she's falling, daughter of ashen skies
I'm falling, falling, close to the light
I feel whole...
I am snow...
