

Deep Blue You

8mm

Once I thought the sun would rise again
Once I thought the tide would turn
Once I believed that sunlight could guide me home
Now I know that light is old and stars are gone

Now I know I'm lost, lost, in the deep blue you
Now I know I'm lost, lost, in the deep blue you

Once I thought that gravity would hold it's ground
Once I thought that wishes came true
Once I dreamed on dandelions and fairytales
Now I know that weeds and throws can all be blown away

Now I know I'm lost, lost, in the deep blue you
Now I know I'm lost, lost, in the deep blue you

I can fall but there's no down
I can scream but there's no sound

I can sink but I can't drown
Where others can't be found

I know the facts but that's not proof
Every lie becomes a truth what am I supposed to do?
I thought I could count on you

I can fall but there's no down
I can scream but there's no sound
I can sink but I can't drown

I know the facts but that's no proof
Every lie becomes a truth what am I supposed to do?
