

Our Last Goodbye

911

Baby don't cry
Open your eyes

Here in the dead of the night
Lying here with you by my side
Don't know if this is wrong or it's right
Wishing this was just another day
Baby I could feel it's too late
Just another cruel twist of fate
Looking back through the years
Time has dried all our tears
But all good things must end, oh just listen

Baby don't cry, I can see we've lost the feeling
Won't you open your eyes, and try to find your smile
We've known each other too long, to let it all slip away
When all's said and done, we've said our last goodbye
Baby don't cry

Baby, we've been living a lie
And even though it hurts deep inside
I know there can be no, no, no compromise
'Cause too many chances have passed
And if you want a love that can last
Never try to push things too fast
And though I've no regrets
I still recall the night we met
We said that we'd never end, so baby listen

Baby don't cry, I can see we've lost the feeling
Won't you open your eyes, and try to find your smile
We've known each other too long, to let it all slip away
When all's said and done, we've said our last goodbye

All the memories we had, I wouldn't change a thing
And with the lights down low, I'm dreaming of what could have been
Even though we've tried so many times before
I'll take one look around, before I close the door
With this one last kiss I know deep down inside
The beginning of the end, the ending of our time
Maybe we could try, but no, it's just too late
Just another cruel twist of fate

Looking back through the years
Time has dried all our tears
But all good things must end, oh just listen

Baby don't cry, I can see we've lost the feeling
Won't you open your eyes, and try to find your smile
We've known each other too long, to let it all slip away
When all's said and done, we've said our last goodbye
Baby don't cry, I can see we've lost the feeling
Won't you open your eyes, baby don't cry
We've known each other too long, open your eyes and find your smile
When all's said and done, we've said our last goodbye
Baby don't cry, I can see we've lost the feeling
Won't you open your eyes, and try to find your smile

We've known each other too long, we've said our last goodbye
When all's said and done, we've said our last goodbye
