

They say the future's looking bright
I guess I just can't see it
Everything's gonna be alright
I just can't believe it

They say the beat continues on
I guess I just can't hear it
It's been this way far too long
I try to grin and bear it

Hold your head up high
Stand your ground
You think you've won the prize
Take a look around

They say it's in God's hands
I guess I just don't trust him
Part of some master plan
I don't understand it

They say that heaven awaits
I guess I'm just impatient
How will I get through the gates
I guess I'll have to pray

Is there anyone listening?
Won't somebody save us?
Is there anyone out there?
Someone we can trust?

Don't walk away
Stay here with us
We're so afraid
Don't know who we can trust

Hold your head up high
Stand your ground
Take a look around
Open your eyes
