

White Lines And Lipstick

A Change of Pace

Oh dear could this be true?
It's all lie's we've told
The minds of such devilish boys
Your dreams bought and sold
Give me those bright blue eyes
And those lucious lips
I'll sing this song for you
If you shake those hips

And I know that, you want it to Cause I see it, like I see through you

I'm walking that white line
And it's no big surprise that I can't sleep anymore
It's just these little pills
That make my dreams feel real and I'm still craving more

And this show's come to an end
And now the fun begins
Just step into your skin
And let things unfold
Your body moves me girl
And now you're whispering
Everything I want to hear
A puppet with no strings

And I know that, you wanted to
Cause I see it, like I see through you

I'm walking that white line
And it's no big surprise that I can't sleep anymore
It's just these little pills
That make my dreams feel real and I'm still craving more

I'm walking that white line
And it's no big surprise that I can't sleep anymore
It's just these little pills
That make my dreams feel real and I'm still craving more (I'm still c raving more)
