Solstice

A Common Year

When the sun goes away we will hide In the warmth of a dark summer night In the face of what we are not ready to be We'll sing "No, it's not our time to go"

I tried to stay As long as I could But moments fade And we knew they would And for a night I kept everyone close enough to forget What the next day would bring

No, it's not our time to go