

Same About You

A Day to Remember

I just felt a wave, an emotion,
And right then I knew that everything had changed
A whole side of you that went missing, gone
And all I'd thought of you is wrong

Gotta step away, for perspective
Need to take a chance to clear my head
Don't wanna understand your position
Oughta wash my hands of you and run

Think I lost my nerve
Like I lost you
Held trapped by what we were

No, I'll never feel the same
Same about you, same about you
No, I'll never feel the same
Same about you, same about you

Spent time today reminiscing
Think I learned a lot about who we are Couldn't diagnose your condition
But now I see the signs you've left behind

Think I lost my nerve
Like I lost you
And the truth remains [?]

No, I'll never feel the same
Same about you, same about you
No, I'll never feel the same
Same about you, same about you

Some roads you can't come back from when you extract truth from the lie

No, I'll never feel the same
Same about you, same about you
No, I'll never feel the same
Same about you, same about you