Violence (Enough Is Enough)

A Day to Remember

I've been feeling like everything's for nothing
In fact I've never felt so god damn small Always searching for the bright side to find the strength for when I fall
I'm still believing that life has a meaning Can't cope with thinking that there's not I'm so divided that I try to hide it it's the only real thing that I've got!

So when the world outside can't see what's wrong and right
People can't understand the reasons that we fight Something's gotta give

Violence give me violence,
cause they say we're the worthless ones
Substance give me substance
Heavy lies the crown as I cut you down
(2x)

You can call this a warning, it's a warning that we're drowning in our malcontent Tear me down like a cancer, what's your answer?
We're different and it makes you sick
There is a sadness here, on every corner,
it's in our hearts, dear god don't wanna trouble you much, but we all need to know when enough is enough

So when the world outside can't see what's wrong and right
People can't understand the reasons that we fight
Something's gotta give

Violence give me violence,
cause they say we're the worthless ones
Substance give me substance
Heavy lies the crown as I cut you down
(2x)

You only get one chance, and that's one too much What's the world gonna say when I call you bluff punk?
Bow your head

Violence give me violence,
cause they say we're the worthless ones
Substance give me substance
Heavy lies the crown as I cut you down
(2x)