

capo I

we stood so tall we caught a plane by the wing and held it safe until we found it a place to land we laid across the ocean wide, bridged the gap in record time, the people traveled across and kissed our hands

all for love, we become larger than lifesize, wondersome great in the eyes of someone larger than lifesize we become,

we smiled so bright the sun went down rose above the maddening crowd we lit the streets with the sweetest glow we held the globe and made it turn wandered through the universe the men of science observed through telescopes

all for love, we become
larger than lifesize we become,

larger than lifesize we become,
