

Conscious And The Fiery Works

A Great Big Pile Of Leaves

lighting picture frames,
in all these different shades,
i couldn't find the paint to show the coloring.

oh, starstruck sky!
showing off the highlights,
and with the dynamite you couldn't tell if it was night or dayt ime.
the fiery works are making up for the dull streetlights.

reaching these head heights,
through a splash of water we smoked the skyline.

down the shore,
i need a few summers more.
