Your coat is hanging loosely
On your slender frame
There's many roads to leave by
But few come back again

I don't believe it I believe it

Take a look around and see
What's stopping you is stopping me
One moonless night we'll make it right
And vanish in the dark of night

Pack up your things and go Run down the road, don't take it slow Pack up your things today and run away Yeah, run away

You say it's useless crying Never got you far You claim there's none as lonely Lonely as you are

I don't believe it I believe it

Take a look around and see What's breaking you is breaking me

One moonless night we'll make it right And vanish in the dark of night
