

No World Order

A Life Divided

fallen from almighty hands I'm flying through the mist of evil yes I'm coming for this promised land 'cause I was told

I'm made of ignorance and stubbornness legitimated by a piece of shit programmed to kill each and every ass that's what I've been told

I'm burning
I'll bury

I was sent from up above liberation is my highest aim priorities will start to roam in my father's name blood will give me peace tonight that's what I've been longing for so long when I explode it feels quite right you're dead when I'm done hear me falling freedom's calling sirens yawning as I'm falling

this world is burning I'm the fire the order takes a while but I'm in time as soon as the last crap is blinded everything will be fine globalize myself tonight hold my fellows on a short line I shall overcome sometime so show respect for my might and you can't say it doesn't bother you they target you in your swoon, too and there ain't gonna be a helping a-team take a look at the news this very day it's getting far too late well you don't need to say, all this shit won't help us anyway, no we're caught in a cage and so bound to our ways we're about to break
