

Wake Up And Die

A Perfect Murder

What more do you want from me?
You've already taken the best of me
How much is really left to bleed?
I've sunk so low
Blinded by the darkness of my life
I choke on the pain that refuses to pass me by
All these things that I feel I keep inside
Growing to relive again another day

Blank stares are staring back at me and it's mine own eyes I see (Death haunts me)

Blinded by the darkness of my life
I choke on the pain that refuses to pass me by Wake up to relive the same day
Am I strong enough to face another day?
Refusing to choke on the pain
All these things I feel
I tell you they're so real

Wake up and die!
Another day
Another lie
You bury those secrets deep inside
And you surround yourself with the bullshit that you bleed
'cause you oughta know that you will never beat me!

Blinded by the darkness of my life
I choke on the faces refusing to pass me by
So you wanna see what's inside me?
All the things that I feel
You wouldn't survive another day
Believe the things I say
All the strength inside me
This strength you'll never achieve
