Fame is a lonely world. Success has it's enemies. Look where it's gotten us. Is this what we wanted. It has nothing for me. What can you offer a man. That has nothing to lose. I'm sick and tired of looking past the things you do. I'm sick of sugar-coating everything I say. Was it to good or evil that I sold my soul. This is over my head, over your head, over my head anyway. Life can truly begin. When you have nothing to lose. I have nothing to lose. I fear no death and no pain. I have nothing left to lose. I'm not scared of you. We will not be stopped. You will not silence me. We are the new torch runners. We cannot be stopped.