Cuckoo Song

A Silent Film

I wont be your cuckoo my love Nor a thief on the way A shameful regret Or a promise on a string And I will follow your heart Until you let me in I'll never be your cuckoo my love I'll be a lesson learned instead

Don't be a cuckoo my love If you ever want to know The beat of your heart Or the depth of your soul And now I cut out my life With the courage that you showed me To never be a cuckoo my love But I will take this wish and bury it in the snow

The river you didn't cross Grows deeper everyday And for the rest of my life Are you the one that got away For we grow old Would you show me the depth of your soul And no we clip your wings And we will build a home with the courage you have shown

So put down your bow and arrow Because time is on our side I will be here in the morning If there are violins tonight This is the calm before the storm Through the silence in your eyes I'll never be a cuckoo my love Oh I will take this wish and bury it in the snow (Cuckoo my love) I will build a home with the courage you have shown (Cuckoo my love) And I will take this wish and bury it in the snow (Cuckoo my love) And I will take this wish and bury it in the snow (Cuckoo my love)
