Drown The City

A Skylit Drive

Lie to me I wont lie Tape your mouth shut Lie to me I wont lie Swallow your tongue Forget it all, I have you buried in my walls I'll use your skin to cover up my scars The place you lay, in a bloody hall of fame The ropes that tied your hands, right by your side The place you lay, in a bloody hall of fame The ropes that tied your hands, right by your side So now you're screaming at the top of your lungs Hoping for someone to come Hoping they'll bring a gun To inflict all the pain I caused upon you I caused upon you I won't die I won't die, I will lie The only problem with the story carved on your chest It's hard to read when you're missing your ribs The place you lay, in a bloody hall of fame The ropes that tied your hands, right by your side The place you lay, in a bloody hall of fame The ropes that tied your hands, right by your side So now you're screaming at the top of your lungs Hoping for someone to come Hoping they'll bring a gun To inflict all the pain I caused upon you I caused upon you I won't die I won't die I won't die, I will lie I won't die, I will lie The only problem with the story carved on your chest It's hard to read when you're missing your ribs So now you're screaming at the top of your lungs Hoping for someone to come Hoping they'll bring a gun To inflict all the pain I caused upon you I caused upon you So now you're screaming at the top of your lungs Waiting for someone to come Hoping they'll bring a gun To inflict all the pain

I caused upon you I caused upon you Immerse me, cut my throat (My throat) Immerse me, cut my throat (My throat) If you want me skin deep, you better act now (Better act now) If you want me skin deep, you better act now (Better act now)
