

Too Little, Too Late

A Skylit Drive

You crowd around me on the floor
Staring in deservance seeing what I'm fighting for It's not in you, not like this

I'm only seconds away from giving in
And I'm running out of time
Now I'm running away to free my mind
My mind

It's so like you, discretion is all you can be Screaming to see what is in between
I've been to hell and back, the quiet never lasts
It's not like you to take a risk

I'm only seconds away from giving in
And I'm running out of time
Now I'm running away to free my mind
My mind
With only seconds to go
Cause well end this world
With only seconds to go, come drop the kill!

Reject the world that is broken
Don't give in!
The time slips through my fingers
It slips away
Reject the words that are spoken
Don't give in!
The final hour will linger
Too little, too late
Reject the world that is broken
Don't give in!
The time slips through our fingers!
It slips away
Reject the words that are spoken
Don't give in!
The final hour will linger
Too little, too fucking late!

It's too late
It's too late
The time we spent is free
Gone away
Thrown away!

I'm only seconds away from giving in
And I'm running out of time
Now I'm running away to free my mind
My mind
With only seconds to go
Cause well end this world
With only seconds to go, give up the kill!

Reject the world that is broken
Don't give in!
The time slips through our fingers!
It slips away

Reject the words that are spoken
Don't give in!
The final hour will linger,
It slips away
