

Waiting for Daylight

A1

I miss your breathing
When sleep doesn't come
I cant help pretending you'll be home
I cant face the future
Now your in the past
Seems all of the best things never last

But there's no use in crying
There's no point denying
I'm waiting for daylight to come

They say I get through this
But how could they know
How can I make it on my own
Your here in the shadow
You cover my heart
And I hear you whisper in the dark

But there's no use in crying
There's no point denying
I'm waiting for daylight to come

I don't wanna let you go
But in time
But in time
I'll wake up for all I know
I'll be fine

But there's no use in crying
There's no point denying
I'm waiting for daylight to come
