

Your Song Goes On Forever

Aaron Gillespie

Back before the sea, before the skies were blue
There was this melody, no one could hear but You

When the noise has finally disappeared
I can hear Your anthem loud and clear

Your song goes on forever, I will sing my part with my whole heart
Your song goes on forever, I will bless Your name I will sing Your praise
Forever, forever, Your song goes on forever

In my brokenness, in my victories
Even when I'm lost and scared, it still plays inside of me

When the noise has finally disappeared
I can hear Your anthem loud and clear

Praise is rising hearts are turning, I lift my voice to You
