

Reality

Aaron Neville

Even though we're apart, you're still right here in my heart
Your hands are still in mine
I can still hear you whispering words divine

I can feel your warm embrace
Just the thought of it puts a smile upon my face
But my imagination
Whoa, I said it's so strong
But reality keeps assuring me I'm all alone

But now from my lips comes a song with tears in my eyes
'Cause now you're gone, so all your sweet talk...
Even though we're apart, you're still right here in my heart
My imagination, oh, I said it's so strong
But reality keeps assuring me that I'm all alone

My imagination, oh, so strong
But reality keeps assuring me that I'm all alone