You Are The Woman

Aaron Tippin

You are the woman Who started a fire in my soul And to this day it?s still burning out of control With my final breath your name will cross my tongue

You are the woman There?ll never be another one I?ve stared into the eyes of strangers Wondering if I?d ever find you girl The one that I could build my dreams around

To fill my empty world And now I look at you and know it?s true My search is finally done This love that I?ve held on to for so long Was meant for only one

You are the woman beautiful woman God only knows just why you chose to love only me You are the woman, oh precious woman Right her and now I give this vow There?ll never be another one

Right here and now, I give this vow Oh, there?ll never be another one
