

Blame It On Those Baby Blues

Aaron Watson

Now there you go givin' that eye, with your hand on my thigh, you got me swervin' all over the place.
You got me wantin' and needin' you're the reason for my speedin' and you know you can't blame it on the breaks.

Blame it on those baby blues
for lookin' like you do blame it on your slow dancin', county road romancin' blame it on the moonlight shinin' bright tailgate kind of summer night blame it on you for lovin' me so true girl you can blame it on your smile, your whisper, and your touch blame it on your lips for kissin' me so much
blame it on those baby blues
but you can't blame me for lovin' you.

Yeah when the sun goes down on the sleepy little town you turn my world into a country love song.
Take a good long look in the mirror Naw, it couldn't be any clearer and you'll see what turns my radio on

for lookin' like you do
blame it on your slow dancin', county road romancin'
tailgate kind of summer night
blame it on those baby blues but you can't blame me for lovin'

The way you love me can't get enough of me rain or shine, all the time, with all your heart and soul.
I'll be lookin' in your eyes by the time the sunrise comes shinin' through your bedroom window.

You can blame it on those baby blues
tailgate kind of summer night
but you can't blame me for lovin' you.

No, no matter what you do, girl you can't blame me for lovin' you.

You can blame it on those baby blues
