

Hearts Are Breaking Across Texas

Aaron Watson

Words cannot express
The way you look in that white dress
I don't believe there's ever been such a beautiful sight
All my dreams are coming true
That yellow rose ain't got nothing on you
Hearts are breaking, across Texas tonight

And tears will be falling everywhere
As you're lettin' down your hair
From cowboys wishing that it was them, holding you tight
That's the harsh reality
I'd feel the same if you hadn't chose me
Hearts are breaking, across Texas tonight

A lone star is shining right above
And there's magic in the air
And looking deep into your eyes
I can only sympathize
With those who'll never know
The kind of love we share

Hearts are breaking, across Texas
