

That's Why God Loves Cowboys

Aaron Watson

He wanted someone who loves the land as much as He does
Someone who knows the blessin' of a good hard rain
Somebody simple and strong that He knows He can count on Soft as the wind, yet bold enough to bless His name

That's why God loves cowboys, I believe there's a place in His heart

Cause when the herd needs tendin', the fences needs mendin'
He knows they'll work hard, on His great big ranch called life
Cause they love and take care of all His creations
From the horses they ride to those broken-hearted honky-tonk angels

Ooooooh

That's why God loves cowboys

He knew they'd need room to breathe and freedom
So He gave em' Texas and those big Montana skies
He was there when He heard those prayers coming from Cheyenne Right beside that young man on his last ride

That's why God loves cowboys, I believe there's a place in his heart

Cause when the herd needs tendin' and the fences needs mendin'
He knows they'll work hard, on His great big ranch called life
Cause they love and take care of all His creations
From the horses they ride to those broken-hearted honky-tonk angels

Ooooooh

That's why God loved cowboys

Ooh those cold nights get lonely
He needs more than just a good fire keeping him warm
Ooh there's nothin' more holy
Than a love of a woman weather life's storm

That's why God loves cowgirls, I believe there's a place in His heart

Cause when the herd needs tendin' and the fences needs mendin'
He knows they'll work hard, on His great big ranch called life
Cause they love and take care of all His creations
From the horses they ride to those broken-hearted honky-tonk heros

Ooooooh

That's why God loves cowgirls
