

Waiting for You

Abney Park

The world is waiting for me
While I'm waiting for you
You're off patting your back
No damn thing I can do

I've got a family to feed
I've got a life of my own
While you go party for free
I wait here all alone

I look back at the songs
That I wrote years ago
I wrote the same things
I think its time that you know

we're all waiting for you
While you flex your ego
I'm not impressed with your crap
I think it's time that you know

The world is waiting for me
While I'm waiting for you
You're off patting your back
No damn thing I can do

I've got a life of my own
While you go party for free
I wait here all alone

And I'm still all alone
And I'm still all alone
