

All the saints and sinners please report to the battlefield
Karma has picked its next, report to the battlefield
Make your money make your profit running from us will never stop it

All the saints and sinners please report to the battlefeild
The war goes on.. Nothing can tell

Nothing ever changes its always the same

The battle goes onward and leaves us in shame

Look past your sorrow and seek the truth

We've been here months now with nothing to prove

We are the ones that protect your country

All of your towns have burned into nothing

Breathing this smoke will only make you higher

Keep your head down when the guns start to fire

Make up your mind, if you have what it takes

To be alive, and make some simple mistakes

Lift up your head, and make the best of this

Leave out the rest, and know this war was for the best

This war is for the best, for the best

I was the boy that you left back in Nile

Where have i been? but the war took awhile

This is the ending of all that we know now

Look for the main base and capture the home town

Pull through the hard times to get through this weather

A helping hand only makes you feel better

Make up your mind if this is what you wanted

Your purpose is rotten but never forgotten now

(4x)

Lets take a stand, for the ones we love

Scatter but what the fuck does it matter?

Scatter but what the fuck does it..

FINISH HIM!

This is no rio

What is the purpose of war? we stand here just begging for more Lips quiver, they'll never cross the river, they'll never bring me down!
