

Trip On Love

Abra Moore

I let my guard down in the momentary lapse of emotion
And it just slipped out and we both knew my heart could be broken
And I said something I never intended to say
You stopped laughing and I said, "Do you feel alone in that way?"

Do you trip on love? Do you run from magic?
When you kiss someone, do you make it tragic?
If you feel too much, do you start to panic?
When the word comes up, do you trip on love?

I just stood there, I'd expected another reaction
Out of thin air came the strangest sense of satisfaction
Can you tell me how you see me so well?
If you help me, would you let me see that part of yourself?

Do you trip on love? Do you run from magic?
When you kiss someone, do you make it tragic?
When you feel too much, do you start to panic?
When the word comes up, do you trip on love?

Where do we go?
Do we say this means less than we know it does?
Please tell me

Do you trip on love? Do you run from magic?
When you kiss someone, do you make it tragic?
When you feel too much, do you start to panic?
When the word comes up, do you trip on love?
When the word comes up, do you trip on love?

Don't you wanna love me no more?
I just wanna love you some more
