

Regain The Throne

Absurd Minds

Regain the throne

To deal with things, you have to know the things
To deal with people, you need the sympathy of them
To deal with yourself, you need nothing but you
To deal with yourself, you need nothing but you!

They know all the right words
Quote the scriptures
Be brilliant in their comments
And yet remain a bag of bones
But when you're glowing with deep wisdom
The knowledge flows to you

Regain the throne

Religions; there are quite a few
Do you really think they are of use to you?
Know straight away, you need nothing but you
Just be yourself, you've nothing else to do

They know all the right words
Quote the scriptures
Be brilliant in their comments
And yet remain a bag of bones
But when you're glowing with deep wisdom
The knowledge flows to you

Destroyed by their own perfection
They're born, then they decay and die
What time has brought, time will take away
A storm blows away a small cloud in the sky
They're born, then they decay and die
They're born, then they decay and die!

They know all the right words
Quote the scriptures
Be brilliant in their comments
And yet remain a bag of bones
But when you're glowing with deep wisdom
The knowledge flows to you

They know all the right words
Quote the scriptures (quote the scriptures!)
Be brilliant in their comments
And yet remain a bag of bones
But when you're glowing with deep wisdom (with deep wisdom!)
The knowledge flows to you

They know all the right words
(Quote the scriptures!)
But when you're glowing
(With deep wisdom!)

Regain the throne
