

Watching Over You

Absurd Minds

As long as night is dark,
as long as day is bright,
I'll keep you in my mind,
day and night.
Even though we were fell apart.
You found and took the rose and then you stuck the thorns
in my heart.

The tears I shed,
the lines I wrote,
are all dedicated
to that one thing
that makes the life worth living - Love.
As long as night is dark,
as long as day is bright,
I'll keep you in my mind,
day and night.

The holy instant shines alike on all relationships,
for in it they are one.
I'll watch over you with loving care
May shadows fall from you
and never cloud your sight again.

It shall not be a comfort
Some things fade away, some things lasts forever.
And maybe there'll be another time for us.
The tears I shed,
the lines I wrote,
are all dedicated
to that one thing
that makes the life worth living - Love.

The holy instant shines alike on all relationships,
for in it they are one.
I'll watch over you with loving care
May shadows fall from you
and never cloud your sight again.
