

New Day

Absynthe Minded

Last night I dreamed that all of you were gone
I had not one relationship begun no name no face that you would know no place or home to call my own I drove around brussels by subway I watched the morning people go their way they check the time they rush and sweat

I remembered every word she said
if you could care less
would you do it
if you could love her
would you prove it
if you could decide what's on your mind
we'd have a wonderfull time

my first real moment on my very own I said the words to myself they meant less I shot my mouth and laid my head to rest
I drove around the city for some time I couldn't bother cause all time was mine always on time to rush to sweat
I remembered every word she said

If you could care less
Would you do it
If you could love her
Would you prove it
If you could decide what's on your mind
We'd have a wonderfull time

If you could care less
Would you do it
If you could love her
Would you prove it
If you could decide what's on your mind
We'd have a wonderfull time
