

Blink Blink

Aceyalone

With a grin that matched his own she said,
"You're not a thief, are you?"
He shrugged. "Do I look like a thief?"
"You look like the most attractive man here."
She paused long enough to catch his eye
Of course looks can be deceiving.
She didn't say it, but she could picture him pocketing
A necklace carelessly left in a jewelry box during a big party.
Or a Seiko watch from under a poolside towel.
She didn't imagine him planning a heist,
But just taking what came his way.
Returning her smile, he said

'Bout that money, yeah, that's what I'm talkin' 'bout
'Bout that money, gettin' that money

Blink Blink, every time you open up your eyes
Blink Blink, every time you open up your mind
Blink Blink, yeah, yeah
What the fuck are people talkin' 'bout?

Blink, every time you open up your eyes
Blink Blink, every time you open your mind
Blink Blink, yeah, yeah
What the fuck these people talkin' 'bout?

I say it once, I'll say it again
Cold cash money make the whole world spin
You can laugh, and you can grin
But you ain't sayin' shit if you ain't got ends
So hold your breath, and wait for God
And when you get here, tell him that you need a job
Because shit is hard, in the battlefield
And the next business deal can get you killed

The phone's in my name and it can't be cut off
The water and the power and it can't be shut off
Food, shelter, cheese, I gotta break off, please
I gotta shake off, that's why I gotta take off
I'm young and full of vigor, West coast nigga
Tryin' to make my pockets bigger from the shit that I deliver
Stay afloat, sell your boat
Sell what you wrote, fuck it, sell dope

Yeah, yeah, what the fuck are people talkin' 'bout?
Yeah, what the fuck do people think about?

You should put on a mask, and go in home savings
Wit yo nuts and yo' heart and yo' forty-five waving
Westsidiers got West cravings
God damn motherfuckin' money is amazing

Yeah, you know money money in everything
You know money make the world go round
You know money runnin' everything
You know money make the world go round
You know money runnin' everything

You know money make the world go, round
