

Please Be

Acid House Kings

I'll let you know if I still love you girl
I seldom think of you
After years of being almost alone
It's hard to believe in yourself
I'll let you know if I still love you
I love you

There is so much that counts
First of all longing
And there are things
You can never forget

Please be
The friend you once were
Please be
Something more than that

I'll let you know when thoughts are clearer
That's the hardest thing to do
Like an ocean sky
I'm always blue
I'll let you know when thoughts are clearer
Yes I do

There is so much that counts
First of all longing
And there are things
You can never forget

Please be
The friend you once were
Please be
Something more than that
