Cajun Twisters

Adam and the Ants

Get on your backstep where you belong Leave your shirt and tie undone Cajun twister all night long

You fight so hard to get your name What big eyes you got grandma On every tongue in every brain What big eyes you got grandma How in the hell can you complain What big eyes you got grandma Privacy's gone down the drain

Get on your backstep where you belong Leave your shirt and tie undone Cajun twister all night long Pay attention

You fight so hard to get your name What big ears you got grandma On every tongue in every brain What big ears you got grandma How in the hell can you complain What big ears you got grandma Privacy's gone down the drain

You fight so hard to get your name What a big mouth you got grandma On every tongue in every brain What a big mouth you got grandma How in the hell can you complain What a big mouth you got grandma Privacy's gone down the drain

Get on your backstep....

You fight so hard to get your name Please don't eat my leg grandma On every tongue in every brain Please don't eat my leg grandma How in the hell can you complain What a bore you popstars are Privacy's gone down the drain
