

Don't Mean Anything

Adam Cohen

What she wants is for me to say
That i can't tell a promise that i made.
But on her hand there's a ring
It don't mean anything
I would sit and write her songs
Evolved it in my heart she belonged.
But all the words I use to sing
They don't mean anything
Its hard to feel, when u don't
Its hard to say you will, when you wont
And if u do
It don't mean anything
I touch her skin
I smell her hair
It might appear that I still care
I see her legs, they're opening
It don't mean anything
Its hard to feel when you don't
Its hard to say you will when you wont
And if u do
It don't mean anything
On the day i said goodbye
My melancholy butterfly
Just cried tears that sting.
It don't mean anything
It don't mean anything
It don't mean anything
It don't mean...anything
