

Take Back

Adam Lambert

All you ever think is gimme gimme
But you never give back
All I ever do is overthink and drink until I attack

We know how to talk it into the ground
We know how to wear it out
If we ain't gon' save it
Gonna end up in the grave, oh baby

How do we take back what's been done, what's been said?
Oh my
How do we take back 'cause no one wins
When love breaks down, we both die

And I would give anything
Just to chase the dark away
And start all over again
How do we take back what's been done, what's been said?
Oh my

I fed you a fantasy
But you've been drunk on reality
All you want is to be wanted
Long as you get it outta me

We used to be a jungle, sticky and wild
It used to be, we owned the night
All the stupid games we're playing
All the sh*t that we've been saying

How do we take back what's been done, what's been said?
Oh my
How do we take back 'cause no one wins
When love breaks down, we both die

And I would give anything
Just to chase the dark away
And start all over again
How do we take back what's been done, what's been said?
Oh my

Remember, remember
The first time we collided?
We lost it, we lost it

How do we take back what's been done, what's been said?
Oh my
How do we take back 'cause no one wins
When love breaks down, we both die

And I would give anything
Just to chase the dark away
And start all over again
How do we take back what's been done, what's been said?
Oh my
