

Every Time Around

Adam Pascal

Every time around I come down with the same intention
And break into a smile at the thought I don't dare to mention
A solitary dreamer been meaning to make it outside
But sitting here alone I don't risk yet another blind side
And then, oh, once in a while, I make a breakout
Always under fire, but I never mind the end
Every time around you don't make a sound
Every time around is a chance to love her
Dreaming far away, every time around
See, it's only love, god, it's only love
If only I could stay I would say, "I would never leave you"
If I could get control I'd do nothing but hold you
But when I see you smiling even though it's over
Well, you can walk out of my world
Goodbye, don't say you love me
Goodbye, don't say you love me
Goodbye, don't say you love me
