The One That Got Away

Adam Pascal

I can't help it but I wait all night Can't help it, but I wait all night without you Sunday morning didn't turn out right I come into the morning light without you You left on the 'A' train, not even time to say Goodbye to the one that got away I can be far away You won't be left behind As long as you remain, my friend The easier I see the light of day You lift me up like a breeze Slam me down so gracefully, you make it look so easy But when Idon't want to be seen Times when I can't even breathe You're alwys air to me I won't ask for much now I know the games you play Goodbye to the one that got away