

Wonderchild

Adam Pascal

If a fever got you burning
And your stomach got you turning
And your mommy doesn't show you
And your daddy doesn't know you
If your torn up, life confiscated...
And if you've been burned, eviscerated
You take in all that you're given
And you give out demolition darling
Tearing down as you keep falling
Burn it up to save your life,
Tear it down, light the light
You wonderchild, your eyes about to see
Kiss the pain and make it beg, you are the queen, that's what I said!
You wonderchild, your eyes about to see
If you're screaming but the sonar
Doesn't hear you 'cause you're so far
Under radar, that you don't show
Up on anybody's video
And you're trying to get over,
But they keep standing up on your shoulders
You take in all that you're given
And you give out demolition darling
Tearing down as you keep falling
It's your faith
It's your love
It's your light
It's your wonderchild
