

Where Are You

Addison Road

Verse 1:

I thought I knew you, I thought I knew who you were.
But now that you're gone, I see that I was wrong all along.
You were playing tricks with my mind.
Now you're leaving me all behind.
How did I fall so hard?

Chorus:

Where are you, where are you?
Why did you sneak so far away? Why did you wake up and change?
Who are you, Is this true?
I thought you'd be the same today; So why did you wake up and change?

Verse 2:

I should've known, should've known from the start.
I feel so fast, in your trap just waiting, waiting to explode.
You swept me far away, wish I'd known you were playing games.
How did I miss the truth?

Chorus 2:

Who are you, who are you?
Why did you sneak so far away?
Why did you wake up and change?
