Every night I walk the streets, awake while everyone else sleeps.

I'm giving unease to anyone I meet.

My generosity can never run out, because I give a gift from what's within myself.

No hope at all. Take nothing from nothing and you'll have nothing left.

I can't recall. I can't recall a moment in my life when life was at its best.

Everyone avoids my stare and no one cares to ever dare to look into the eyes of what they most fear.

And they're taught to fear, to fear no evil.

And they know no fear, they've learned to love themselves.

No hope at all. Take nothing from nothing and you'll have nothing left.

I can't recall. I can't recall a moment in my life when life was at its best.

Forever unlucky, cause I'll own tomorrow. Forever unwanted, outcast today.

I'm not misled, I've got no one to follow. Everywhere to go, no place to stay.

No hope at all. Take nothing from nothing and you'll have nothing left.

I can't recall. I can't recall a moment in my life when life was at its best.
