

You keep on sayin' that you want to know me
but you never show me your true self.

How can you ever expect someone else to know you when all you're gonna do is just pretend you're someone else?

You keep on sayin' that you want to show me
that you're really different, but you're just the same.
If you're really mindless then there is no way that I can win.
maybe you're just one of them,
or maybe it's just a game.

You lie to yourself!
Lie to yourself!
Lie to yourself!
Remain alone.

I'm not exactly sure of your motivation.
not exactly sure what you're tryin' to do.
All I'm really sure is that you're not too impressive

wearin' a mask
I can't see through.

Maybe not looking for acceptance,
maybe you're striving for something more.
If it's status that you lust then why try to be one of us?
You're someone we'll never trust
'cause we know the score.

I Can't see through!
I Can't see you!
