

Brand New Day

Afromental

People! What?
Fight for your lives! Why?
The evil seed is spreading out now
Unite to make it stop
People! What?
Fight for your lives! Why?
Somebody's out there crying out now
Help him don't be blind

When you see a man that is hurt
Laying on the floor, with no god damn hope at all
What you gonna do?
I'm gonna help him out
What you gonna do?
I'm gonna help him out
When you see them kids that are scared
Running all around, looking for their pops and moms
What you gonna do?
I'm gonna help him out
What you gonna do?
I'm gonna help him out

So let's join together, grab my hand now
If you need some help, just scream it out, loud
Cause there might be times
That you'll feel bad hun
And what you gonna do?
I'm gonna help him out
What you gonna do?
I'm gonna help him out

People! What?
Fight for your lives! Why?
The evil seed is spreading out now
Unite to make it stop
People! What?
Fight for your lives! Why?
Somebody's out there crying out now
Help him don't be blind

Every Nation is a people's nation
So why do you agree all the segregation?
If we take it under consideration
We are a donation of our civilization
This is kind of a demonstration
I just wanna prompt your imagination
If we won't help our communication
Some bad times will come, times of desperation
So hide your hate and spread the love
And fight for fate that's written above
When you'll have time to open your mind
Your life's in your hands you can't walk it over
Remember that united we have strength to
Make things better, cause it really makes sense
You have to brake the wall with own hands
To make it finally fall and we will help you

And even if the whole world's Heading wrong way
Don't stop
Believe in brand new day
Together we can fight
We can make a big change
Alright
Let's celebrate and pray (4x)
