

Wings of Illusion

After Forever

When the fate leaves you behind and drags me of to an unknown destination Shall my tears shape a sea on which your boat has to reach the area

When the storm is most violent and the horizon seems to be far away You'll find strength to go on and conquer the misery that wants to bring you down

When silence from afar is close at hand
Our harmony becomes as elusive like time

Viribus exhaustus sentio meum finem Meam amicam viduam relinquens
