

Let Me

Aga Zaryan

Let mi in or let me out. Let me keep quiet or let me shout. Let me feel or tell to leave. let me laugh loud and dry my tears on your sleeve.

Let me sin, regret, then be sweet. Let me dance till dawn with bare feet. Let my soul bleed, I know one day it will heal. Let me understand the meaning of real.

Let me free, from an unknown crowd. Where I seem lost, still not found. Let me run into your arms from the highest stairs. Let me believe in growing passion through the years.

And if you let me do this My Precious Love I will be your Sugar Lady and your Only Dove
