Against All Authority

Everyday i listened to you and nothing's ever good enough you're always complaining about something you act so goddamn tough but all you ever do is let someone do your thinking for you and you have no respect for my opinion well at least i think for myself i'm not brainwashed to think like people that rule i'm not a fool and i'll rise i won't compromise and i'll never give up, i won't walk walk walk away there won't be another day when i can say hey hey hey... freedom you talk to me i see your lips move but the words that come out aren't yours they're someone else's you dangle from their strings beneath the wings of the eagle you push but i'll never fall i'm not the only one whose willing to stand up.. we've had enough your laws just benefit you we watch you get richer as we get sicker and we'll rise with battle cries and we'll never give up
