

Now That I Found Love

Agnes

Don't walk, don't talk with a stranger - mama used to say
But I've been dying to meet you since I saw you the other day
At the coffee house - you were walking out, and I was walking in
I looked at you, you looked at me - and my head began to spin

Is it you?
Could it be?
Questions run from A to Z
Are you my once in a lifetime, baby?
Is it now?
What's it then?
Will I ever see you again?

Now that I found love
I just wanna find you
Remind you, baby
Now that I found love
Baby, I'm dying to
Put my arms around you

Now I see what they mean by the saying
Love can make you blind
Cause shoulda, woulda, coulda are the words that come to mind
At the coffee house
Should've talked it out, but I let it go undone
Will destiny get the best of me
Or bring us back as one?

Is it you?
Could it be?
Questions run from A to Z
Are you my once in a lifetime baby?
Is it now?
What's it then?
Will I ever see you again?

Now that I found love
I just wanna find you
Remind you baby
Now that I found love
Baby, I'm dying to put my arms around you

Can't even tell what I'm going through or Why I feel like I've been knowing you for Ages and ages and ages and more
It's a fever that needs a cure
Is it you?
Could it be?
Is it true what I feel?
Am I head over heels?
Or is (it) simply my mind playing tricks on me?

Now that I found love
I just wanna find you
remind you baby
Now that I found love

Baby, I'm dying to put my arms around you
