

Beautiful World

Aidan Hawken

Have to admit it
Your kisses are sweet
The first taste of honey
I'm startin' to see
And I have to admit that I'm glad, I found you my love
Such a beautiful light in this dark and sometimes cruel world

When you smile at me I'm inclined to believe everything's right
Dark turns to light with your eyes and it's a beautiful world
The past melts away when you're here, I forget what I should
I'll be the love of your life if you stay with me tonight

I have to admit it
It can be so hard
Love knocks you down
Or it takes you off guard
But I have to admit that I'm glad it happened this way
Cause it opened my eyes to the site of this beautiful world

When you smile at me I'm inclined to believe everything's right
Dark turns to light with your eyes and it's a beautiful world
The past melts away when you're here, I forget what I should
I'll be the love of your life if you stay with me tonight

And you have to admit what they say it's a sometimes cruel world
And what a cold place it can be, well, forget what you heard
Cause when you smile at me I'm inclined to believe everything's right
Yeah, when you smile at me I'm inclined to believe everything's right
And it's a beautiful world
It's a beautiful world
It's a beautiful world
