

Breathless

Aiden

We past through like a nightmare falling down,
Without touching the ground. These ghost and vacant eyes deceive thee, they've come to take me without words and silence.
With a hand now crushing hope this late kiss, you've come to make this my last night home.

I promised everything the necklace and those things you made will go with me everywhere I go.
Well it's not the end I won't pretend it's impossible to fix what can't be broke.

I'm breathless and disconnected.
Take me home so far away from here.
Take me slow I can't stand one more year.
Take my breath away, wake me up today, I will return for you.

Now I've seen the world through eyes of bitter hate and lies and now I can't stand what I have become.
Was there something I missed?
Can you replay this kiss?
And the ghost sought by my side.

I'm breathless and disconnected.
Take me home so far away from here.
Take me slow I can't stand one more year.
Take my breath away, wake me up today, I will return for you.

Take me home so far away from.
Take me slow I can't stand one more year.
Take my breath away, wake me up today, I will return for you.

I won't forget those times we spent, cutting our silhouette, waking up nights again, I am afraid because I'm open and undone.
I won't (I won't) forget (Forget) those things you said, a stab to the heart and head, killing without an end,
I am afraid because I'm open and undone.

Take me home so far away from here.
Take me slow I can't stand one more year.
Take my breath away, wake me up today, I will return for you.

Take me home so far away from.
Take me slow I can't stand one more year.
Take my breath away, wake me up today, I will return for you.

We past through like a nightmare falling down,
Without touching the ground.

These ghost and vacant eyes deceive thee, they've come to take me without words and silence.